

HOUSE STARTS DRIVE TO RUSH THROUGH WORK

Attempt Will Be Made To Complete Legislation By August 25.

PROGRAM AGREED

Hope For Recess After Date Set if Plans Are Carried Out.

Washington, July 29.—The republican whip cracked in the house today as a drive was started to complete the legislative work of that body by Aug. 25. In accordance with an agreement reached between President Harding and house leaders at a White House dinner last night.

The Republican leadership of the house today sent out telegrams to all absentees ordering their return to Washington in an effort to wipe the legislative slate clean.

The program which was agreed upon by the president and the Republican leaders is as follows:

Passage of the tax revision legislation as early as possible in August.

Passage of the Winslow bill authorizing the war finance corporation to extend credits to the railroads.

Passage of the administration measure authorizing the war finance corporation to grant relief to the farmers.

Authorization of additional appropriations for the shipping board.

Agreement on conference report on Smoot-Sweet bill for reorganization of soldier relief agencies.

Agreement on conference reports of anti-beer legislation.

When this program is carried out there is some slight hope that the house may recess, although leaders are holding out no promises for they declare that there will be many conference reports which will have to be acted upon and they anticipate some difficulties in adjusting legislative differences with the senate. The leaders, however, promise that if the program as laid down is carried out by August 25, that there will be some relief for the members of the house even though it may not be a long recess.

SUBMIT TWO BIDS FOR NEW ATHLETIC FIELD IN XENIA

Two bids for the construction work on the Cox Memorial Athletic Field, to be built in connection with the new Central High School building, were opened by the Board of Education at a special meeting, Thursday.

The two bids received were from the Lloyd Contracting Company and the Wilson Engineering and Contracting Company, both local contractors. The contract was not let however, but the bids will be gone over by the architects, Pretzinger & Musselman of Dayton, before the board makes its decision.

The constructing work calls for drainage of the six acre tract in Dadds addition in the rear of the school house site donated by Frank W. Dadds, and the drainage alone will take about a mile of sewer pipe. The field will then have to be graded, four tennis courts, a baseball diamond and a football gridiron laid out, a track building and jumping pits constructed. All of this work will not be done at once, but will be completed in time.

Money for the construction of the field will be provided by the fund established by Senior classes of Central High School donating all the money left in their treasury at graduation to that purpose. The fund grew in the several years that the plan was in practice and according to its provisions, the name "Cox Memorial Athletic Field" must be inscribed over the entrance in gold letters.

ANNOUNCE DATE OF ANNUAL REUNION

The twenty-fifth annual reunion of the Maryland Association will be held August 23, at the Community Country Club in Dayton.

Members attending from this city are instructed to take a Hills and Dales car for the place of reunion. All Ohio Marylanders and their families are invited to be present. J. A. Piper of this city, is secretary of the Association.

FIRE ALARM IS FALSE

Wooster, July 29.—Twenty four hours after the fire and light committee of the city council had made a report in which they decided that in case of fire in any Wooster building above the ground floor the water pressure would not be great enough to force water to fight the flames. Fire was reported in the fifth floor of the People's Saving and Loan Company building, the tallest in the city. The fire proved to be nothing but a flickering of an open gas jet which was lighted when the city electric power was turned by an accident.

JAPAN TO PROPOSE "FREEDOM OF PACIFIC" AT FAR EAST MEETING

Foreign Office May Suggest at Washington Conference That Island Zone of Pacific Shall Not Be Forfeited, Dispatch Declares.

London, July 29.—A declaration for the "freedom of the Pacific" will be proposed by Japan at the far east conference in Washington, said a Tokyo dispatch to the London Times today.

The Tokyo correspondent understands that the Japanese foreign office and the war and navy departments are considering the advisability of suggesting at Washington that the island zone of the Pacific shall not be forfeited.

The British press is taking a highly optimistic view of the conference. "Japan's acceptance of the American invitation is a most hopeful sign," said the Daily Mail. "If the conference succeeds in limiting naval programs, it will have rendered a great service to all concerned."

FOREIGN SAILORS RIOT IN PERU PORT; FORTY ARE KILLED

Spanish, Italian and French Engage in Fight at Callao.

Balboa, Panama, July 29.—Forty persons are reported to have been killed at Callao, Peru, in a riot of Spanish, Italian and French sailors, according to private advices received here today from Lima.

According to the version received here the Italian and Spanish sailors attacked French sailors from the armored cruiser Jules Michelet. The foreign warships at Callao are participating in the Peruvian centenary. There are two U. S. dreadnaughts at Callao.

GOVERNOR LIKELY WILL FACE WOMEN ON JURY IN FALL

Names of Scores of Women Are Placed in "Wheel" For Drawing.

Springfield, Ill., July 29.—Governor Len Small, now "at large" with three warrants out for his arrest, will probably have to face one or more women on the jury that will try him next September.

It was learned today from a reliable source that the names of scores of Sangamon county women had been placed in the September jury "wheel" from which will be drawn a jury for the governor's trial. The "wheel" was closed today.

It was announced from the office of State's Attorney C. Fred Mortimer that the state would not bar women jurors. On the other hand it was intimated that the state's attorney would welcome one or more women on the jury. The attitude of the governor's legal advisers is not known.

There is still a possibility however, that the governor will win a change of venue from Sangamon county courts. This effort will be vigorously opposed by the state.

The county authorities have adopted a "watchful waiting" policy toward the governor and his array of legal advisers. They are awaiting some reply to the "unconditional surrender" ultimatum sent to him at Chicago two days ago. This ultimatum declared the governor would have to submit to arrest at the Sangamon county court house.

The bench warrants issued by Judge E. S. Smith for the governor's arrest are still locked in the safe of Sheriff Mester. His attitude was explained in the cryptic comment "it's the governor's move."

REPORT DENIED

London, July 29.—The foreign office issued an official statement today denying that Lord Curzon, the foreign minister, had anything to do with the cancellation of the British embassy dinner to Lord Northcliffe in Washington.

HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION IN OHIO WILL CONTINUE WITHOUT INTERRUPTION

Democratic Floor Leader Comes to Defense of Herrick

Columbus, O., July 29.—Back from a three week's vacation trip, Governor Harry L. Davis issued a statement at his office declaring that highway construction in Ohio will continue without interruption. The governor said good roads are more important to the state's economic life than ever before and that "stopping of public work would seriously aggravate the situation and cause much suffering among working people."

H. S. Attkisson, Democratic floor

The Daily Telegraph in commenting upon the acceptance by all nations to which invitations were extended, says: "This is a big gain. President Harding has shown wisdom in recognizing that armaments rest upon the policy of discussing policy first. The failure of the Hague conference was due to the non recognition of this fact."

JAPANESE MEETS AMERICAN TENNIS STAR ON FRIDAY

Boston, July 29.—R. N. Williams II of Boston and Zeno Shimidzu, of Japan, were slated to meet today in the final round of the all-comers tourney for the Longwood challenge bowl. The winner will meet William M. Johnston of San Francisco in the challenge round tomorrow.

FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF $75,000 AT OHIO DETENTION FARM

London Institution Is Scene of Bad Blaze Late Thursday

London, Ohio, July 29.—Fire last night and yesterday afternoon destroyed the dairy and horse barns, a creamery and four silos at the state prison farm here, causing an estimated loss of $75,000.

The horse barn was struck by lightning during the storm in the afternoon and early in the evening, the dairy barn in which men were engaged in milking, was seen to be ablaze.

Cows were driven out, and aside from the buildings, the only loss was in hay, of which approximately 300 tons was burned. Lack of sufficient water hampered the fire fighters.

WILL CUT WAGES TO 30 CENTS AN HOUR

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 29.—The rate of pay for common labor at the plants of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, largest of the independents, will be cut from 37 to 30 cents an hour, effective August 1, it became known today. Downward pay readjustments on the same ratio will be made at that time for all wage and tonnage employees. The Jones & Laughlin company is the last of the big independents to cut wages.

HOOPER COMMITTEE BLAMES LABOR TURNOVER AND BAD MANAGEMENT

New York, July 29.—A billion dollars a year is lost in the metal trades industry owing to idle men and machinery, according to a report of the Hoover committee on elimination of waste issued today. The metal trades industry is operating only about 60 percent normal. The value of increased possible production, even in normal times would be more than $500,000,000. Instability of labor employment and faulty management are given as the major causes of waste and non production. The average yearly waste due to labor turnovers is about $100,000,000 according to the committee.

OPEN CITY ICE PLANT

Wooster, July 29.—After successfully operating a municipal electric light, water works and sewage disposal plant, Orrville, a city of 5,000 persons, last week officially opened her municipal ice plant. Ice, manufactured by machinery operated by electricity and made out of city water is sold to Orrville and small consumers at the rate of 60 cents a hundred pounds, delivered. The plant so far is making money, according to Mayor G. D. McIntyre.

SMALL LEAVES ON ROAD TOUR; DEFIES ARREST

Governor Says Executive Functions Cannot Be Stopped.

IN DEFIANCE MOOD

Persists In Contention That Sheriff Has No Authority.

Chicago, July 29.—Leaving his affairs in the hands of a cabinet of five attorneys, Governor Len Small, under indictment for alleged misappropriation of state interest funds, departed today on a tour of inspection of Illinois roads. The purpose of the tour is to obtain information to be used in the awarding of contracts for road construction.

The plans of the governor it was announced call for visits to Kane, Will, Cole and other counties of the state. He conferred this forenoon with a delegation from Lake county regarding road building there. The tour contemplated will require several days, making it evident that the governor will not return to Springfield, where warrants for his arrest are held by Sheriff Henry Mester, until some time next week.

Governor Small persists in his contention that the sheriff has no authority to arrest him.

"The executive functions cannot be interfered with," he said. "The constitution so holds, regardless of the opinion of Judge E. S. Smith of Sangamon county."

"But suppose Sheriff Mester attempts to serve the warrants while you are conducting your survey?" the governor was asked.

"He has no authority to arrest me," the governor said.

"But what if he insists he has and attempts to force such a decision?"

"I will not tolerate any interference."

"How will you stop it?"

"I cannot say just now."

Gov. Small spent the night with his family at Kankakee but returned to Chicago early today.

TOKIO WILL SEND LARGE NUMBER OF REPRESENTATIVES

Many Will Attend Disarmament Conference in Washington.

Tokio, July 29.—Tokio is expected to send a small army of representatives to Washington for the meeting of the disarmament conference.

Many public men have been mentioned as the probable leading envoys for Japan but among those most likely to go are Premier Hara, Viscount Makino, Count Uchida and Viscount Kato, stand out most prominently. Premier Hara has exhibited some cleverness in handling various cabinet crises in Japan. He won reputation in his country for his strategy and his ability to handle any political situation. Premier Hara is 67 years old was early in life a reporter on the staff of the Hochi, and has traveled somewhat extensively. His last visit to America and Europe was made in 1908 and 1909.

BILLION DOLLARS LOST DURING YEAR IN METAL TRADES

Hoover Committee Blames Labor Turnover and Bad Management.

BREAK-UP OF ENTENTE LIKELY, ENGLAND WARNS

Great Britain Tells France Present Policy Will Lead Eventually to Severing of Relations—Sharp Note Received From French

London, July 29.—Great Britain has formally warned France that unless she abandons her present policy, there will be a general breakup of the European entente, it was learned this afternoon.

This warning was contained in a note despatched by Marquis Curzon in a reply to a previous communication from Premier Briand of France dealing with Upper Silesia.

The French note, which was received here yesterday was described as the sharpest of all the Franco-British exchanges. One British official who was conversant with the contents, said that the tone "resembled an ultimatum" and that the language "was comparable with a threat to sever Anglo-French relations."

Great Britain in her reply declared that a continuance of the French policy of acting alone threatens to break down the entente cordiale.

Great Britain repeated that there was no necessity for sending allied reinforcements to Upper Silesia at this time.

The British communication concludes with the hope that the French note of Thursday is not "the considered opinion of the French government."

DECLARE OUTLOOK FOR IRISH PEACE PARTLY IS BRIGHT

Secret Decision Reached By Sinn Fein Cabinet It Is Reported

London, July 29.—The outlook for formal Irish peace today in London was very bright today.

The Dublin correspondent of the Manchester Guardian reported that the Sinn Fein cabinet had reached a secret decision which is believed to open the way to a peace conference in this city to settle for all time the troublesome Irish issue. It was believed however that Eamonn DeValera's reply to Premier Lloyd George's peace offer would not be sent to London for a day or two, possibly not until Monday.

DeValera has been sitting with his cabinet in Dublin every day this week. For a time British officials were perplexed by the unusual length of time taken by the republicans to canvass the English offer but the optimism prevalent in Dublin is now reflected here.

GREENE COUNTY FARMER DROPS DEAD ON TRIP

The message was received in this city Friday afternoon of the death of Harry Everett, 25, farmer, who resided on a farm west of this city and who dropped dead, while on a camping trip near New Carlisle.

Full particulars of Mr. Everett's death are lacking. Mr. and Mrs. Everett left Monday morning on a camping trip, their destination not being known. At that time Mr. Everett was apparently in good health and relatives can attribute no cause to his death, since Mr. Everett had never suffered from heart trouble or any other illness that would result in sudden death.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett had been married about five years. There are no children. The dead man's parents, and two sisters and one brother survive, besides his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett had left Enon for Michigan driving a wagon. Near New Carlisle, Mr. Everett fell over and two farm boys near the scene rushed for aid.

The man was dead when help arrived.

Increase In Inheritance Taxes Being Considered

Washington, July 29.—Increased inheritance taxes are being considered seriously today as a new number on the program of tax revision being drafted by the house ways and means committee.

This increase is being urged both for the purpose of producing revenues to take the place of taxes which it is sought to have lifted from business and with the object of "breaking up" the great fortunes that are being amassed in this country.

The farmer, labor, single tax, and other organizations which have appeared before the committee have agreed in urging that the inheritance taxes be increased.

It is the only recommendation on which they have agreed.

Rep. Ramseyer, Iowa, introduced in the house and there is pending before the committee a bill which would double the inheritance tax and reduce the exemption. Inheritance taxes run now from 1 to 25 percent with an exemption of $25,000.

Mayor Threatens Newspaper Editor With Revolver Following Attacks

Political Feud In Ironton Comes to Semi-Climax Thursday Night

Ironton, July 29.—The semi-climax of a political feud of long standing was enacted on the streets of Ironton Thursday night when Mayor Thomas L. Collett, walking across the street from his front porch held up at the point of a gun, Editor H. M. Paul, of the Morning Irontonian, demanding of him that he should cease his newspaper attacks against the mayor and the city administration. The Irontonian is a Democratic newspaper and the mayor, also a Democrat is a stockholder and director of the newspaper. Paul, the editor is a Republican and he has rarely missed an issue in criticizing the mayor. His ridicule and sarcasm has been virulent and scathing, and Collett appeals to the officers of the publishing company to have Paul cease his attacks have been fruitless.

The mayor's action in placing the gun at Paul's breast in full view of a score of people, did not have the desired effect for this morning's issue of the editor's paper carried a seven column headline reading: "Mayor Collett Essays role of gunman," and then in a story of three columns the editor, reiterates all his previous charges and says he stands by them. The fight of Paul against the mayor is a personal one and the mayor is on good terms with

FRANCE BALKS OVER MEETING DATE NOW SET

Cabinet Withdraws Consent to Council Session August 4.

AIRPLANE UTILIZED For First Time Aircraft Used for Diplomatic Interchange

Paris, July 29.—Following a meeting of the French cabinet today it was reported that France will withdraw her consent to a meeting of the inter allied supreme council August 4 and will suggest a further delay until August 11.

President Millerand of France presided at the ministerial council. The ministers discussed at length the British communication of Thursday dealing with various phases of the Upper Silesian issue.

The British note which was a reply to a French communication insisting upon the immediate dispatch of allied reinforcements to Upper Silesia was brought to Paris by a special diplomatic courier who travelled by airplane. So far as known this is the first time that the airplane has ever been utilized for diplomatic intercourse.

Premier Bonomi of Italy, has sent word that he would be unable to attend a meeting of the supreme council on August 4 and France probably will utilize this development in her contention for a postponement of the meeting.

ett had never suffered from heart trouble or any other illness that would result in sudden death. Mr. and Mrs. Everett had been married about five years. There are no children. The dead man's parents, and two sisters and one brother survive, besides his wife.

Washington, July 29.—"It's a lie,"—that was the short and explosive comment of Lord Northcliffe today when he read an International News Service dispatch from London stating that the British foreign office has issued a statement denying that Lord Curzon has anything to do with the cancellation of the invitation to Lord Northcliffe to be the guest at the British embassy here.

It is certain however that if the present administration continues in power Lord Northcliffe will not go to Washington as a delegate at the closing of special channels of information which the London Times formerly enjoyed.

If it is to be war of reprisal the next move is up to Northcliffe, who is now in Washington.

Persons close to Downing Street recall that Premier Lloyd George notified the world that the London Times "does not reflect the views of the British government" and now the declaration is made that "America must not accept Northcliffe as the spokesman for Great Britain."

It is declared that Lord Northcliffe wishes to represent Great Britain at the far east conference and that he is so hopeful of achieving this honor that he is going to China, Japan and Australia to make a personal study of conditions so as to possess first hand information on the subject.

BRITISH RUMPUS TAKES ON MORE SERIOUS ASPECT

Trouble Between Lloyd George and Northcliffe Grows Bitter.

DINNER CANCELLED

Marquis Curzon Charged With Responsibility for Latest Thrust.

London, July 29.—A rumpus which is marked by steadily increasing bitterness and which now has assumed international ramifications today has grown out of the hostility between Premier Lloyd George and Marquis Curzon, the foreign secretary on one hand and Lord Northcliffe, the great newspaper proprietor on the other.

The latest development and one which promises to increase the hostility was the cancellation of Lord Northcliffe's dinner at the British embassy in Washington.

The importance of this incident was shown by the fact that the foreign office today took official cognizance of it and issued a formal statement saying that Marquis Curzon had nothing to do with the action of Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador in Washington.

Before this denial was issued friends of Lord Northcliffe had charged the foreign secretary with responsibility for the cancellation. They declared that Marquis Curzon was getting his revenge for the attack against him in Northcliffe's London Times when the foreign secretary was characterized as "pompous and inefficient" and "unsuitable" delegate to represent Great Britain in the far east conference.

Premier Lloyd George was attacked in the same article and Northcliffe has already felt the effect of the premier's displeasure through the closing of special channels of information which the London Times formerly enjoyed.

If it is to be war of reprisal the next move is up to Northcliffe, who is now in Washington.

HESSIAN FLY LOSS IS CUT TWO THIRDS

Entomologists of the state service, their annual survey of Ohio wheatfields completed, announce that the crop just harvested suffered only 17 percent infestation from Hessian fly. The 1919 wheat crop showed 44 percent infestation.

This improved showing the entomologists attribute to vigorous co-operation of farmers in the "delayed sowing" campaign conducted last summer and to an April unfavorable for the development of the fly.

Northwestern Ohio had the most fly this year, being 36 percent infested. The state authorities recommended for this region strict observance of the seeding dates adopted last summer by the county farm bureaus there. It is hoped that these dates need not be further postponed.

The central counties were 14 percent fly infested. Those south and southeast showed only six percent fly-damaged stalks. A percentage of infestation lower than five percent is regarded as normal by entomologists. Recommendations for the 1921-'22 crop: discourage early sowing for all Ohio.

BOY QUADRUPLES EGG YIELD OF FLOCK

Sooner or later, everybody in Newton, a hill township of Licking County, will be following the example of Cyrus Colville, a 15-year-old farm boy, who by modern methods of poultry keeping, secured from 68 hens in January, February and March as many eggs as he got from 75 hens in all 12 months of 1920.

A cripple all of his life, this boy can not take part in all the pleasures open to most country youngsters. He has always taken keen interest in poultry, and this spring when grown-up farm bureau members of the community formed a poultry record club, he asked to be let in.

His records have been among the best submitted at the monthly meetings. The procedure of improvement has been, in itself simple. Learning how to tell poor layers by outward appearance, he has thrown them out, and to the remaining birds has fed two parts of bran, two parts of shorts and one part of tankage and sour milk the last named to assure animal protein that factor most often lacking in poultry rations and one most needed. Finally he has kept records so as to know where he stands.

Styles BY LENORE

There is no more enjoyable feature for a woman when traveling than to feel she is correctly and smartly outfitted for her journey. While French women usually favor the one-piece frock and top-coat combination as a traveling costume, Americans still prefer to cling to the regulation tailored suit or some of its recent variations. Even with the tailored suit, however, they have found the top-coat necessary, and this all-over garment has certainly undergone many changes the past year.

For tall women who can carry the voluminous cape with distinction, there are swaggar wraps of heavy woolen plaids, or wraps of heavy-weight cheviot and homespun in soft grays and blues and greens, that melt in with the atmosphere of an ocean trip or take the dust manfully on a motor run. The slenderline coat type with short shoulder cape is still popular, as is the friendly roominess of the "standpat" polo coat, which is shown this season in snowy white as well as natural.

A very smart and exceedingly practical cape wrap which will willingly travel by land or sea, is illustrated above. It is one of those things that make one feel very trim and well set about the shoulders, and is made of a shadow plaid in grey and brick red—the latter, by the way, a particularly modish shade in outer apparel.

PATTERN NO. 218
A pattern for the above model (No. 218) can be obtained in sizes 34, 36 or 38, by sending to Lenore, 8 West 40th St., New York City, your name, address, the number of the pattern and the size required, and 50 cents in postage stamps. Be sure to keep this newspaper clipping of the sketch and description of the garment to use as a working model when the pattern reaches you—which will be within two weeks' time.—The Editor.

TELEPHONE MERGER CASE CONTINUED

Hearing on the petition for a merger of the Springfield and Xenia (Citizens) Telephone Company and the Ohio Bell Telephone Company, before the State Public Utilities commission, which was to have been held several days ago, has been continued until September 1, at nine o'clock, it is now said.

The proposed merger if carried out, will mean the elimination of one telephone system in this county and the survival of but one exchange in this city.

MUST BRING OWN FEED FOR PIGS

Members of the boys and girls pig clubs who have entrants at the county fair, are reminded that they have to bring feed to feed their own pig entries, by Fred Keeler, acting county agent.

The pig club members are also instructed to bring troughs so that they can water their pigs during the time they are at the fairgrounds.

WANDERER WINS STAY OF SENTENCE

Chicago, July 29.—Governor Len O. Small yesterday granted a reprieve of 60 days to Carl Wanderer, sentenced to be hanged today.

The action was taken on request of William R. McCauley, State Commander of the American Legion. He asked for the delay so that a commission of alienists may test the sanity of the man who killed his wife and a ragged stranger in a fake hold-up.

Wanderer was an army Lieutenant in France.

Today's Talk by George Matthew Adams

The rent was over-due. The earner's fingers were tired and stiff. Across her lap a sleeping child was stretched. The room was clothed—but in the garb of barrenness. No pictures hung upon the walls. A cot, a chair, a little table, no rug—that was all.

A tall, kind man knocked. He had a basket in his hand. It brought a ray of light to the Mother's wan and sunken face. The child woke up. It took the stranger's hand. Some money was left. The rent was paid. The man went away.

When the door was closed the little tot ran to the Mother and said "Was that God, Mother?"

There are those who never know what it is to be rich. Many years ago a ship came into New York harbor—as thousands of others had adown the years. But on this ship was a boy who had left everyone he loved and all he held dear, that he might find in "the land of opportunity" an outlet for the dreams that surged his soul. He did not know a word of English. He had not a single friend to go to in the new land.

He began by shovelling snow. He washed dishes. He scrubbed floors. He sold newspapers. He went to night school as a result of his meagre earnings by day. He slept where he could.

One bitter day he froze his feet. But he made friends. And he was loyal to them, through thick and thin. He never forgot a kindness. He was all the time trying to improve his chances. He kept studying. One day he graduated with high honor from a noted law school. He became the trusted counsel to great men of affairs, with millions behind their enterprises.

He sent for his aged mother and father—and gave them a home such as they had never dreamed about. They called him "self-made."

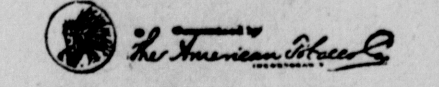

But there are those who do not know what it is to work.

Spring was on in full. The lilacs waved their fragrance in lavish abandon. Two humans, a young man and a girl were interchanging happiness upon a bench in a park. A world walked past every minute. But the two couldn't see a one! There was no traditional moon—but four stars sparkled about that bench, one in each eye. But why matter about details? For a truth was pledged that night.

And yet there are those who never know what love is about.

What Would You Do?

What would you do if your 13-year-old daughter announced that she intended to begin smoking?

Wait a minute! Remember how you used to do things "on the sly" when you were her age. Remember that your saying "you mustn't" or even "you shant!" does not end the matter. And it isn't only cigarettes—it's everything.

Is your child a poor, meek, dominated little nonentity, afraid to have an opinion, afraid to take a step, because you've always had all the opinions for the family and taken the only steps permitted? If so, you have destroyed your child's personality, its individuality, its divine right to self-expression and freedom of thought. So the modernists say.

Or is your child a "bad one," hard to manage, always in trouble, perhaps paying the penalty now for some waywardness or worse—all because you failed to teach it the ways of the world, the rights of others, the paths of honor and decency, the value of truth, the rules of the game? If so, you are to blame! You shirked the sacred duty of parenthood, you failed in the greatest task God gives to men and women—the training of a little child.

SOCIETY

MRS. FESS INFORMALLY ENTERTAINS WEDNESDAY

A number of women from this city were among the guests at the delightfully informal afternoon party given by Mrs. S. D. Fess at her home in Yellow Springs, Wednesday, for the pleasure of her houseguest, Mrs. Harry Patton of Camden, Ohio.

A punch bowl on the lawn, was presided over by Miss Genevieve Drake, and Miss Alice Kirkpatrick. Dainty refreshments were served the guests later in the afternoon.

Mrs. Fess' guest list included women from this city, Springfield, South Charleston and many other nearby cities.

W. R. C. MEMBERS ENJOY PICNIC

About twenty-two members of the Women's Relief Corps, No. 29, enjoyed their annual picnic, Thursday afternoon. The scene of the affair was at the home of Mrs. William Harrison, at the Old Water Works Station on the Springfield Pike. Supper was served at about 5:30.

Rain slightly interfered with the plans, and the picnic supper was held in the Harrison home. Baskets brought by each member furnished a delicious repast. Victrola music was enjoyed by the guests later in the evening.

PUSH ARRANGEMENTS FOR FALL FESTIVAL TO BE HELD HERE

The Fall Festival to be held here under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce the last part of August and the first of September, will be in Xenia Fall Festival.

This stand was definitely outlined, Thursday, when Secretary F. J. Slackford, of the Chamber of Commerce, refused to sell both space to three applicants who wanted to operate booths during the Festival.

It is the opinion of Mr. Slackford that the outside enterprises should not be permitted to compete with local business concerns during the Festival and for this reason they will be denied space. Should Xenia people not respond to the opportunity to subscribe for space during the Festival this plan may be changed.

It is assured now that the Festival will be much bigger than the early promises of the Festival Producing Company of Chillicothe, which is staging the local festival. A number of other free acts, including some of the best open-air exhibitors in the country have been secured by this company and add much to the prestige of the Festival, it is said.

With the Community Picnic now a matter of history, Mr. Slackford will devote all of his time during the next few weeks to making the festival the biggest of any similar celebrations ever held here.

BREAK GROUND FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING MONDAY

With the construction of a tool and workmen's shed, the first actual work on the construction of the new Central High School building was begun by the Industrial Construction Company, of Dayton, Thursday.

Excavation for the erection of the new building will be started Monday, according to J. T. Smith, superintendent of construction for the contracting company. Mr. Smith will have direct supervision of the local work during the entire time of construction, and it is expected that A. V. Lester, partner in the construction company, and its engineer, will also be here most of the time. Charles Russell, of this city architects' inspector, for the firm of Pretzinger & Musselman, will also supervise the work during the entire time of construction, for the architects.

Temporary stakes were laid out with the arrival of the equipment of the Construction company, Thursday, in order to mark the places for the workmen's sheds. A tool shed was under course of completion, Friday and an office for the company will be erected next. The permanent stakes will then be fixed so that the excavating trench work can start Monday. A large force of laborers will be started on the trench work, Monday for the laying of the foundation.

The construction of sheds and the excavating work on the East High School building will also be started Monday, and the work on both buildings will be carried through to completion together. In the opinion of Mr. Smith, the Central High work will take about 13 months. During that time all local labor will be used as far as possible including skilled and unskilled workmen. Although contracts for material have not been made, it is practically assured that all material will be purchased here if possible insuring local business concerns and local workmen the benefit of the work.

From fifteen to twenty carpenters will be employed on the Central building alone constructing the forms and molds, Mr. Smith said.

PROHIBIT SMOKING AMONG LABORERS ON LOCAL WORK

There will be no smoking by laborers working on the construction of the two new high school buildings in Xenia.

This is the order of J. T. Smith, superintendent of construction for the Industrial Construction Company of Dayton, which has the contract for building the new buildings.

"Men cannot work and smoke at the same time," is the opinion of Mr. Smith. This order has been carried out on construction jobs in many places, dropping the plan only during the war, to be resumed in this city.

It is the opinion of the superintendent that smoking hinders the efficiency of the workmen and that more work can be done by fewer men if they are not smoking than by a larger crowd of workers, taking a few minutes for a smoke now and then.

A colored man applied for a job Friday morning. "Are you looking for a job or for work," said Mr. Smith. "If you are just looking for a job you need not apply. If you want to work we can furnish work for several good men starting Monday. We will keep on trying until we get the good men although it may not be until the work is almost finished. But there is no room for the smoker."

"Before I took Tanlac I was so weak I could hardly sweep out a room, but now I can keep busy all day long and not feel tired," said Mrs. Cora Tittle, 326 Hollibaugh Ave., Ohio.

"I had indigestion so bad I suffered agonies after every meal. My food soured and bloated me up so with gas I nearly smothered and would have to fight for my breath. I had almost unbearable pains in the pit of my stomach and felt miserable for hours. I lost my appetite completely, fell off in weight and grew weaker all the time, until finally I got so run down I felt unfit for anything.

"But I improved almost from the very first bottle of Tanlac, and three bottles have made me a well and happy woman. My appetite is so good I want to be eating all the time, and everything agrees with me perfectly, for I have gained eight pounds in weight. I am so much stronger that my housework is a pleasure to me now, and I simply feel fine. Tanlac is simply grand."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill and by leading druggists everywhere.

TO CUT CAR FARES IN CITY OF DAYTON

Dayton, July 29.—The city commissioners and city railway car company heads have called a special meeting for Monday afternoon to take up fare rates. The commission is preparing an ordinance calling for a five cent rate, and the car people say this will not bring them enough revenue, two of five lines are operating with non union labor.

Minor hurts which occur in every home—cuts, burns, scratches, etc.—can be quickly healed by Resinol Ointment. It stops the smarting at once and cools the inflammation. Your druggist sells it. Keep a jar on hand.

ORIGIN OF WORD "GAZETTE."

How many of our readers know the origin of the word "gazette"? Here is the story. In modern Europe the newspapers first appeared in Italy and Germany. Italy, so long the center of art and learning, naturally led.

At Venice in 1566 there appeared a small paper, the Notizie Scritte, the first Italian newspaper. It was sold on the streets and those who pressed it upon the passerby demanded for it a small coin called the gazette. Herein lies the origin of the name gazette, now so popular a name for newspapers the world over. In fact, so common has this use of the word become that today the dictionaries give the word gazette as meaning a newspaper.

WHAT PRESIDENT HARDING AND CONGRESS EXPECT TO DO IN AUGUST.

President Harding will start Friday night on the first real vacation he has enjoyed since entering the White House. His trip to Plymouth, Mass., for the Pilgrim tercentenary festivities on August 1 is to be extended into a visit of a week or ten days in New England. The President's destination is the summer home of Secretary Weeks at Mount Prospect, in the White Mountains of New Hampshire, where a number of mutual friends have been invited to comprise a house party. No other fixtures are on the program beyond "President's Day" at Plymouth and outdoor relaxation in the beautiful country surrounding Mount Prospect. The presidential party will proceed to Plymouth on the Mayflower, which probably will anchor at Portsmouth, N. H., until Mr. Harding is ready to return to Washington. The make-up of the New England party has not been announced in full, but it will include Speaker Gillett and possibly Senator Underwood, of Alabama, who would be the first Democrat to be invited to travel and visit with the President. They are warm friends.

There are high hopes at the White House that the whole of August will be comparative vacation days for the President. It has been intimated to him that there is a growing disposition in both Houses of Congress to avoid sittings during next month and a crystallization of sentiment in favor of a recess. Mr. Harding understands the House will send the Tax-Revision Bill to the Senate by August 6, enabling the Finance Committee, of which Senator Penrose is chairman, to study it and report upon it in the course of the ensuing six or seven weeks. It apparently is the expectation of the President that Congress will not reconvene until the end of September or the beginning of October. Mr. Harding repeatedly has said he would remain "on his job" as long as Congress was occupied with its duties. He intimated though, that his fond hopes of a summer-autumn trip to Alaska have gone glimmering for this year. The Disarmament Conference looms upon the horizon and a protracted absence from Washington is out of the question.

AN ECHO OF 1776.

More trouble for Congress! The Virgin Islanders must have been reading American history. They have not taken the position that they ought not, or will not, pay income taxes, but they have filed a protest with President Harding and the American Congress. This protest takes sound American ground. It was sound enough to write the Declaration of Independence around and to nerve the arms that struck in the American Revolution against Great Britain.

"No taxation without representation" is the basis for the protest. The Island Council wants a hearing before Congress ere that body extends the income tax laws to people who have but lately become Americans.

The islanders also object to the Volstead law. The passage of an act extending prohibition enforcement to the Virgin Islands is before Congress. They do not seem to favor it so much as certain other American communities. If it is any consolation to the men of St. Thomas, we call their attention to the unshakable fact that there are a few hundred thousand Americans who favor the Volstead act so little that they are overworking a small but willing force of prohibition sleuths.

However, it will be simpler and easier for Congress in the long run if it will bring the Island Council to Washington and listen with due respect to what its members have to say. It will be disquieting to have them turning back through the school histories and pointing out that "No taxation without representation."

WRENS FOUND SCARECROW HARMLESS AND BUILT NEST IN ITS POCKET.

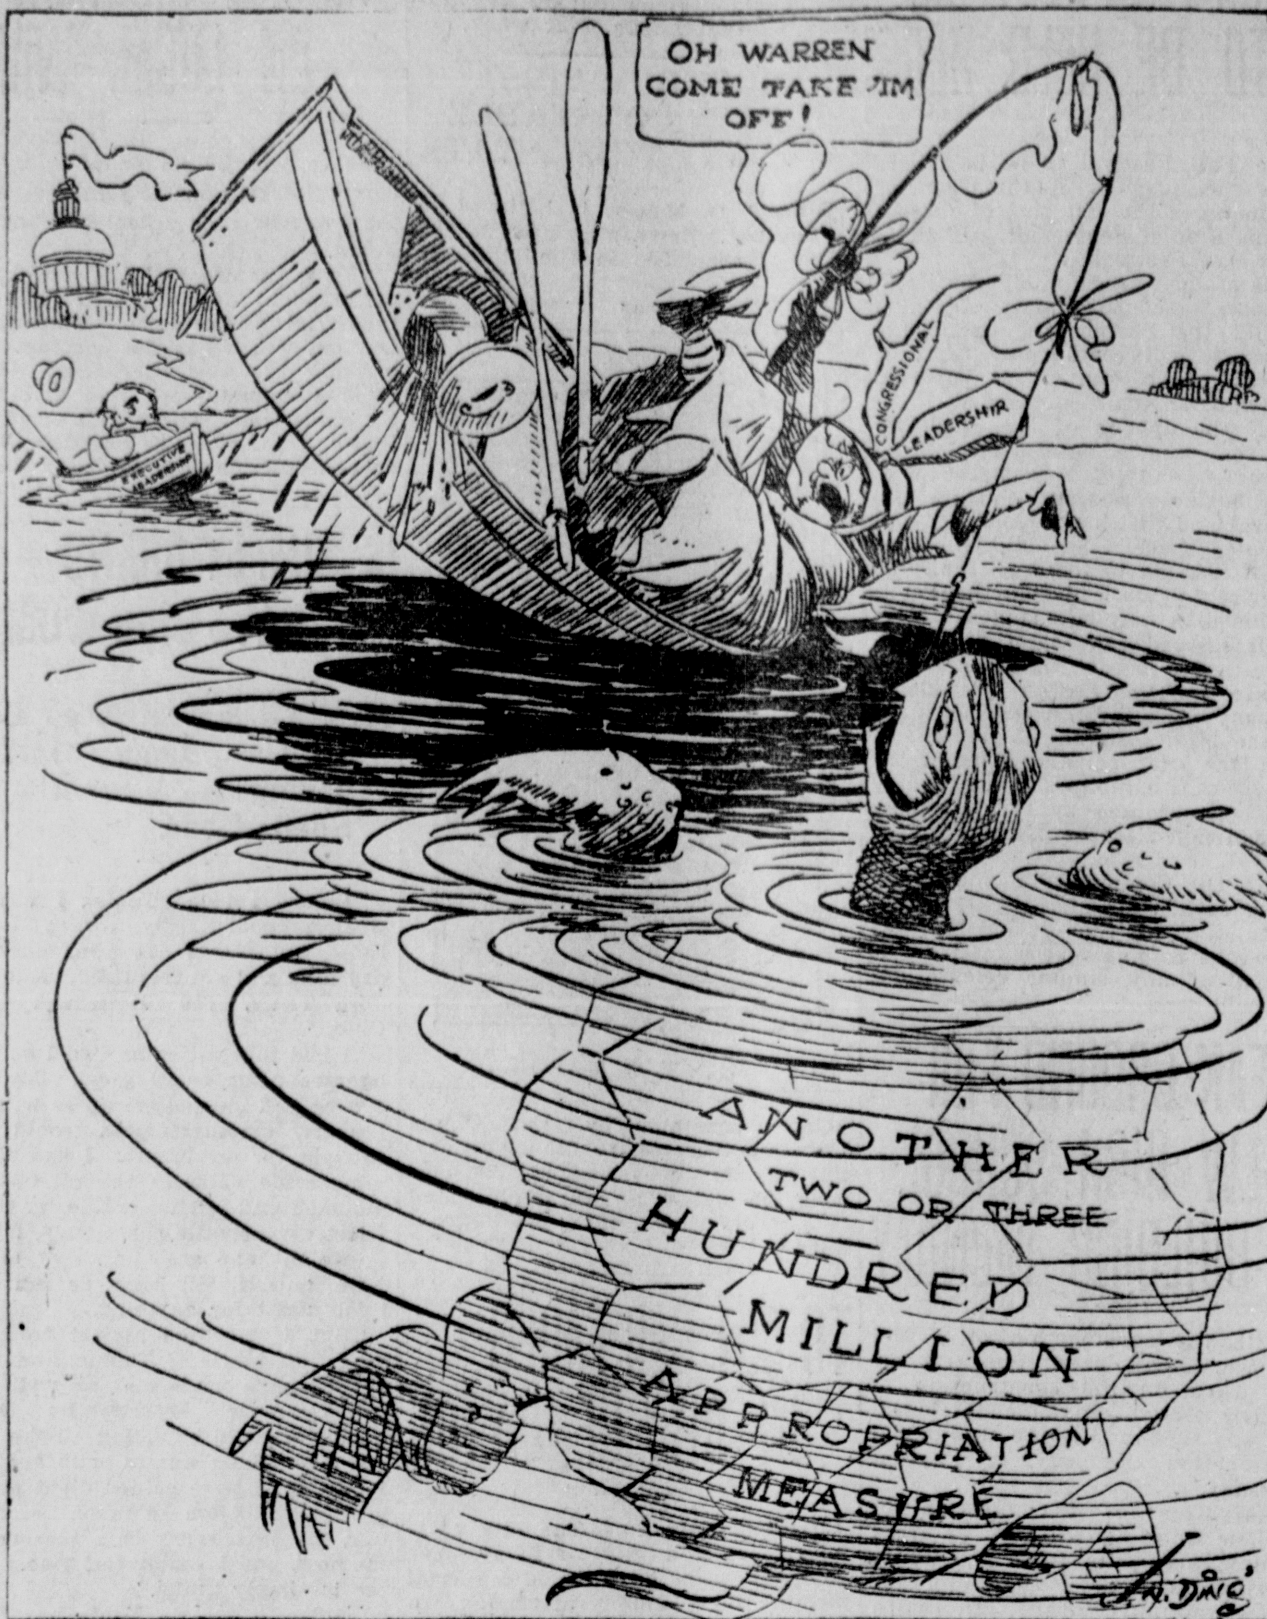

If you are fond of birds you have doubtless read many pages of the high-class ornithological books which tell you how to attract them; how to feed them; and the kinds of nesting places best calculated to appeal to them. Sometimes we find a bird with pronounced individuality. If you doubt this, interview the gardener in charge of the grounds of Robert W. Lesley, Haverford, Pa. He will give you a demonstration.

To protect his strawberries the gardener erected four scarecrows. In a bed of particularly choice berries he put a scarecrow designed to terrify the boldest of birds. It differed from the others in that it was given a head with particularly malevolent countenance outlined in black paint. Suspended from the outstretched arms were attachments that waved a constant "shoo" to the birds.

The scarecrows having served their purpose, it was decided the other day to remove them. The gardener tackled the captain of the squad. Stooping to wrench it from the ground, he was startled by a violent fluttering of wings, and out of the scarecrow's pocket dashed a wren. At the bottom of the pocket was a nest containing several eggs.

There are many wren boxes about the place, but this pair of wrens would have none of them. It certainly wasn't a case of a house "with all modern conveniences." In any event, this manifestation of peculiar temperament on the part of the wrens will have its reward, for the scarecrow has been reassigned to duty until the brood is hatched.

A GOOD THING TO HAVE A MAN AROUND THE PLACE AFTER ALL

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

Mr. Fred Genier who has been working at his trade of tinner at Indianapolis for several months, has concluded to make that city his home and shipped his household goods there Saturday.

A dozen carriage sheds are being built in the yard of Trinity Church to accommodate the friends from the country.

Miss Hazel Flagg has accepted a position as bookkeeper and cashier at the Davidson Drug Store.

Mr. Will Golden, the Panhandle fireman is quite sick at his home, suffering from what is pronounced to be a case of appendicitis.

Mr. Ohmer Parker returned last night from Buffalo, where he had a fine outing.

Smart's warehouse was visited by burglars last night, entrance being effected by prying open a door. Nothing of much value was taken.

Mr. Harry Schweibold, who for number of years was employed as shipping clerk at The Xenia Shoe Factory, and who resigned his position some months ago, is again on duty at the old stand, having resumed his former duties, for which he is well qualified.

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

A good many salesmen for one business or another that doesn't advertise tries to make the best of a bad situation about as follows:

He says: "We don't advertise. We save that money and put the value into the goods."

The salesmen who sell advertised brands know how much water this argument will hold. But for newspaper readers generally, here is a little dialogue between let us say, a cigar salesman and himself:

Suppose we spent no money for advertising. Suppose by some miracle our volume of business continued to keep up in spite of no advertising? Suppose we spent the advertising money for more tobacco to go into the same cigars? How much more tobacco could we then put into each cigar?

So little that you wouldn't know it was there. Worse yet, the public wouldn't know the cigar was there.

Every dealer knows this: The best way to cut down expenses—the cost of rent, light, etc.—is to do more business.

We have learned the same lesson. The best way to cut down the cost of an individual cigar is to make a great many cigars.

And we have found that one strong help in selling a great many cigars is to advertise. We have found that advertising is a good way to build a big business and so give more value in the individual cigar.

Advertising is not the only expense in selling cigars. Salesmen cost money too. Their time costs money. Now here is a nice question for somebody to answer: "Who pays for the time wasted by salesmen in trying to convince dealers that their cigars are better because they are not advertised?"

Did you ever see a smoker step up to a cigar case filled with unknown brands? Did you notice how long it takes to decide on one of the unknown brands in the case?

He wastes a lot of time. Who pays for this time wasted? It doesn't take long to pick out a well-known cigar.

Slow buyers waste time and hold up business. Every retailer wants quick buyers. Advertised brands helps to give cigar value at moderate prices.

Yes, of course, advertising costs money. So does the light in the dealer's shop. Suppose the dealer shut off his light at night? He would save light bills. Could he then sell his cigars cheaper?

No. Why? Because no one wants to buy cigars in the dark.

Nobody has to buy cigars in the dark. They can buy advertised and known brands.

When you hear of some cigar manufacturer who boasts that he doesn't advertise, try this: Write him a letter. Tell him you are a smoker. Tell him you are looking for a good cigar. Ask him if he can advise you why you should buy some particular brand. See how long it takes to get back a letter which consumed ten minutes of some stenographer's time, twenty minutes of an envelope and a postage stamp—all to sell one cigar.

Is that advertising—or isn't it?

Did you ever hear a smoker ask for a cigar without advertising? To begin with, there is no such thing as a cigar without advertising. The cigar is advertised on the label of the box. It is advertised by the salesman who talks it. It is advertised by the circular matter that goes through the mail. Maybe it is advertised in newspapers, magazines, billboards and street cars as well. Every cigar is advertised. There is no such thing as a cigar without advertising.

So if there were any such thing as a smoker who wanted a cigar without advertising, he would have to specify without what kind of advertising.

PAROLED.

All over town the coppers run, to pinch the man who wields a gun not wisely but too well; they risk their lives and strain their thews, and wear out costly cowhide shoes to put him in a cell. The gent in jail has rank renown; he is the toughest thing in town, a terror to all men; he is a wolf in human guise, and it would seem a process wise to keep him in the pen. But in these mad and maudlin times we would "uplift" the man of crimes, and rid his life of care; he should be jailed a hundred years, but in a fortnight he appears, paroled, as free as air. And when he leaves the cooler cool, does he attend the Sabbath school, or, haply, join the "Y"? Ah, no, he gets another gun, brass knuckles and sandbags by the ton, and makes some voter die. No wonder that the cops lose heart, or that the briny teardrops start, and make their handdowns wet; why toil upon the sinner's trail, if he, when landed safe in jail, becomes the village pet? Why comb the alleys and the slums for murderous and thieving bums, hyenas masked as men, if Justice taps them on the wrist and sees them by foal women kissed, and turns them loose again? We have our carnival of crime, for criminals don't serve their time, but get a reprimand; and if the reprimand's severe, a lot of mushy goops appear, and wail to beat the band.

A CLEANSING CREAM

Why not make your own cosmetics? The simpler ones are not at all difficult. They will cost you less, and the quality will probably be better than what you could ordinarily purchase.

One of the simplest and easiest cosmetics to begin on is cleansing cream. Every woman needs this, particularly the woman who lives in the city.

The first thing to do is to purchase the following articles:

White wax 1 ounce
Spermaceti 1 ounce
White Mineral oil 5 ounces
Rose water 1 1/2 ounces
Borax 30 grains
Oil of bitter almonds 15 drops

This last is merely to give your cream a nice odor; you may prefer to substitute 15 drops of oil of rose or of geranium, or any perfume you desire. Put the wax, spermaceti and the oil in a pan and heat until they are just blended together. Add the borax to the rose water and warm slightly. Take from the fire and pour the rose water little by little into the oil mixture, stirring and beating constantly, and just as it is cooling pour off into jars.

It is impossible for me to tell how much it will cost. The ordinary price for a jar of cleansing cream is half a dollar. This formula makes about three jars. When I first made it all the ingredients cost 50 cents, so I was really getting three jars of cream for the price of one. Since then the cost has gone up in the city, but some druggists may not have raised their tiny villages that charged very little.

it will reduce that extra weight around your hips.

B. Lap.—The mixture you mention is a powerful bleach and all such things make the hair look unnatural. Live outdoors without a hat this summer and the sun and air will keep the hair light. You will help this also, if you use lemon juice and baking soda in the last rinse after the shampoo. The proportions are a tablespoonful of juice, half a teaspoonful of soda to several quarts of water.

Red vaseline massaged into the skin below the hair line, will induce a growth of hair. You should weigh about 118 pounds.

FRANCE WILL GIVE RELIEF TO RUSSIA

Paris, July 29.—France has given semi-official assurances that she will give relief to Russia providing the Moscow soviet agrees to pay the Russian public debt contracted under the old czarist regime permits the return of Russian exiles and gives the returned "emigres" full liberty of action, it was learned today.

A report from Rome that the Russian situation will be discussed by the inter-allied supreme council at its meeting next month was of better proportions in a few more years. If you can join a class in basket ball office.

REVEAL RAKE-OFF ON STATE'S ROAD IMPROVEMENT WORK

Springfield, Ill., July 28.—Road hogs have been made to squeal. To Governor Small goes the credit for exposing a $56,000 rake-off on a six-mile job of concrete road, and which was frustrated by the state in rejecting first bids averaging $41,330, thereby forcing the price down to $29,470.

This, say the proponents of lower road costs, is absolute proof that tax payers are being made the goat in road improvement work and that someone is getting a fat rake-off on contracts. It is pointed out at the same time that the U. S. Bureau of Roads at Washington is of the opinion that roads should be built for less than $30,000 per mile and the question is asked what is the rake-off on roads costing from $40,000 to $156,000 per mile.

In Ohio, agitators against high cost of roads declare that a cyclone is coming and point as the hand-writing on the wall the situation in Illinois. They are beginning to ask what is the rake off on Ohio roads costing $60,000, $80,000 and more, and are becoming bitter in their attack on the Townsend Bill which they claim means more jobs and less cents of the road dollar on the road.

Skirmishes have already started between Senator Brand of Champlain County and Highway Commissioner Herrick. The former claims that present costs are out of reason, while the latter defends recent bids as being nearly 20 per cent under estimated cost. The recent opening of bids for road construction work in this state showed the price to be under the $30,000 mark.

FIND PROFITS IN SILAGE FED BEEF

Falling meat prices have made it hard for Ohio cattlemen this year, but certain Wood Co. farmers who have changed their ration to suit present conditions stand to come out at least even and probably better.

Figures from which this conclusion is derived are taken from the books of Wood County demonstrators, cooperating with college authorities in getting at the cost of raising beef. Men who have introduced into the ration greatly increased amounts of silage have made the best showing, says Paul Gerlaugh, extension professor of animal husbandry, who compiled the data.

One farmer, feeding light on corn and heavy on silage, put meat on 53 head of 800 pound cattle at a total cost of $7.75 a hundredweight. This man will just about break even at the present time, Prof. Gerlaugh figures.

Another, with 25 head of 800 pound steers, fed silage and hay alone, at a cost of only $6.30 to a hundred pounds of gain. In all cases says Prof. Gerlaugh, silage-fed steers have made gains right on a par with corn fed animals and will pay far better, even after the 10 cents generally allowed for corn-finish is taken off, and the hog factor deducted.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR RELIEVING HOUSING SITUATION AT MEET

Columbus, Ohio, July 29.—Relief of the housing situation is the chief topic to be discussed at the annual convention of the Ohio Building Association League, August 23, 24 and 25 at Cedar Point. Secretary of Commerce Herbert C. Hoover has been asked to present figures on the house shortage.

"Men representing financial institutions with more than $500,000,000 assets will attend the convention to decide how best to relieve the house shortage, according to James A. Devine, secretary of the League. He declared the building and loan associations during the next year will confine their attention mainly to making home owners. John J. Stoddard, Columbus, president of the League will be among the speakers.

LIBRARY SLIGHTLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

Fire which started from wiring in the attic of the County Library on East Church street, shortly before ten o'clock Thursday night, caused small damage.

Firemen say they do not know who discovered the fire, the Library being closed at the time. Although the blaze developed in a place difficult for the firemen to reach, it did not attain dangerous proportions, and was extinguished with the use of a chemical tank and a bucket of water, after the electric power had been turned off. The loss will be small.

FOREST FIRE SWEEPS TOWN

Sydney, N. S., July 29.—Sweeping down the coast with the impetus of a fresh southwesterly breeze, a gigantic forest fire last night wiped out New Haven, a hamlet of 500 population and for several hours menaced with destruction the village of Nell's Harbor, about 60 miles north of here.

Are You Sure of Your Clubs

Proper equipment is absolutely necessary in any field of endeavor if one is determined to get the best results. In buying a set of clubs there is always a chance that some blades may be imperfectly forged. This extra precaution of a careful examination by an expert is essential because iron clubs particularly are intended to be the companion of years play. It is a real golf tragedy to be obliged to break in a new iron club, for it means much experimenting with another loft before the player will absolutely know what he can count upon in his club. There is a possibility too that the grips of the clubs will be found too large for the finger grip. And, in my best judgment, the finger grip is the only one for the man who expects to become an expert golfer. I wish to lay emphasis on this point. When these little details of the clubs are settled at the outset it will save much time and unnecessary experimenting later on. I know the importance of the seemingly little matter of learning the right grip, because learning the wrong grip at the start cost me several years of effort.

Good golf is largely the delicate art of knowing how to practice. Indeed, I am inclined to think that all good golf is 90 per cent practice and 10 per cent natural aptitude. If this is correct then the man who goes about his play intelligently can get within 10 per cent of championship of golf. And when he does this he has an additional stimulus to his ambition the knowledge that he probably has within himself that 10 per cent of aptitude necessary to reach the top.

The first months of practice will be hard, and always one must be careful not to overdo, but that carefulness must not be allowed to slip into the habit of not doing enough. The greatest trouble with beginning golfers is that they try to learn everything at once and ignore the great importance of practice plus systematic effort. It is almost a golfing maxim that famous college athletes do not make good golfers. If this maxim is true it is because college athletics are usually quickly learned and success in them depends to a great extent upon natural physical advantages. In golf just the reverse is true. Golf is not a game to learn in a day, a month or a year, but when one has

MARSHAL SUFFERS 3 BULLET WOUNDS

Dan B. Williams, Sabina marshal, is in the Hale hospital in Wilmington, suffering from three bullet wounds, said to have been inflicted Tuesday night by George Dunn, farmer of near Sabina.

Dunn is alleged to have driven up to where the marshal was standing, and had his son, Gordon Dunn, whom the marshal arrested several days ago for loitering, in the buggy. With the words "here is the boy if you want to arrest him," Dunn fired three times after calling Williams to the buggy. One bullet struck the marshal's left arm at the elbow, the second plowed through his left cheek and the third passed through his neck, lodging in the muscles in the back of the neck. Dunn was arrested by Mayor Stewart of Sabina, and held for Sheriff Will Kirk of Clinton county. He is in the county jail at Wilmington.

Lowest Prices Ever Quoted

ON TITAN AND INTERNATIONAL TRACTORS

The Harvester Company has made another big price cut on Titan and International tractors. This reduction wipes out all former advances and puts these tractors at the lowest prices at which they have ever been sold. We are offering:

INTERNATIONAL 8-16, $900

This price is about one-fourth less than that of March 1, 1921. The new price includes all necessary equipment—platform, fenders, governor, belt pulley—which cost extra on some tractors.

TITAN 10-20, $900

This is the lowest price ever quoted on the Titan, considering equipment included (formerly sold extra.) At this price the Titan 3-plow tractor is the best value in the farm power field.

INTERNATIONAL 15-30, $1,750

This is also lower than any former price. You cannot find a better 4-plow tractor for the money.

All prices are f. o. b. Chicago. The Harvester Company advise us that these prices are made regardless of manufacturing costs, and that they do not guarantee to maintain them. These prices certainly justify the immediate purchase of a tractor.

We can arrange suitable terms for you. Come in and see us.

GET YOUR BATHING SUITS ON, KIDDIES, THE WATER IS FINE

Get your bathing suits or your old clothes ready, kids.

The big shower on the Court House lawn is going to start for sure, Monday evening.

L. F. Clevenger, who is promoting the plan for the daily showers for kiddies, says that the hours of from seven to eight Monday evening, will be the time for the first big sprinkle. Firemen using two lines of fire hose will send the water into the air over the lawn to fall in a shower on the kiddies. Boys and girls from four to 12 years of age will be admitted to the shower, which is absolutely free.

The continuance of the plan depends upon the popularity of the initial shower, says Mr. Clevenger. If the kids like it and turn out in numbers and if the parents are satisfied, they will be kept up during the hot weather.

ZIMMERMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Hogue Raugh and granddaughter, of Columbus, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Scott Sellers.

Mrs. Isaac Carter is on the sick list.

Dr. and Mrs. Trehan and daughter, Miss Louise, are expected home the latter part of this week. They have been visiting relatives in Canada.

The Community Welfare Club will give a social on the school lawn at Zimmerman Wednesday evening, August 3. Every one is cordially invited to be present.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Neff, of Alpha, is very seriously ill. Their son Stephen is convalescing from a three weeks' illness.

Lewis Stewart, wife and sons, Marcus, Kenneth and Edward Kundert, called on the latter uncle, Joe Kundert, and family, at Osborn, Sunday afternoon.

While assisting in the care of her grand children, Mrs. Josh Stine became ill and is now at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lambert Neff.

Ground is being broken for the new residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bailey, on land purchased from Daniel Sipe.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Kipp and Mrs. William Kipp of Dayton, spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Snyder. The latter were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kipp in the evening.

Mrs. Anna Miller, of Dayton, visited her brother, Charles Cyphers, and family, and other relatives in this vicinity for two weeks.

Miss Annie Crowl, aged and highly esteemed resident of Zimmerman, expects to make her home with her sister, Mrs. Martin Tobias, at Fairfield. Miss Annie has been for many years the Good Samaritan of the village; her hospitable home always being open to the homeless and those less fortunate than herself, and many unfortunate persons have been sheltered and fed through her generosity.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller and daughter Mae, of Dayton, called on Clarence Snyder and wife Wednesday evening, and accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. S. enjoyed a ride through the country.

KING TAKES HAND IN WORDY WAR

London, July 29.—King George today took a hand in the Northcliffe-Lloyd George controversy and denied Lord Northcliffe's statement in New York that he "the king" had said to the premier:

"You must stop killing my subjects."

King George statement repudiating the accuracy of Northcliffe's interview was contained in an authorized statement which Premier Lloyd George read in the house of commons.

The statement read by Premier Lloyd George follows:

"Statements have appeared in certain organs of the Irish and English press attributing words of great concern to the king relating to Irish policy."

"They appeared in an interview which Lord Northcliffe seems to have given out in the United States and which was sent to newspapers here. It is quite impossible to deal with calumnious statements, but here they are of a very categorical character and they attribute a very serious statement to the sovereign calculated at the present moment to prejudice the chance of an Irish settlement. The statements have been circulated very freely, especially in Ireland."

MASKED BURGLARS ROB PRIVATE HOUSE

Cleveland, July 29.—Two masked burglars roused John Davis and his wife from bed in their home on West Boulevard early today and compelled them to surrender more than $3,000 worth of jewelry. The burglars then ripped the telephone from the wall and warned the couple not to make any outcry for ten minutes to enable them to escape. The thugs disappeared in an automobile. The burglars first asked for some whisky, Davis said, and when told he had none, demanded his ready cash, which amounted to $85. The jewels, chiefly diamonds, belonged to Mrs. Davis.

POLICE SERGEANT SHOOT AT ATTORNEY

Chicago, July 29.—Police Sergeant Harry D. Kellogg shot and probably fatally wounded Lemuel Hackley, an attorney and then shot himself just before noon today in the courtroom of Judge Denver in the county building here. Both Kellogg and Hackley are reported to be dying.

Five shots were fired. Spectators were thrown into great excitement.

U. S. WILL FROWN ON POSSIBLE PLAN

Washington, July 29.—The United States would regard any conference preliminary to President Harding's conference which did not include all of the invited powers as out of keeping with the president's invitation, it was learned officially today.

The United States looks with disfavor on any preliminary conference it was learned.

Although officials refused to confirm reports that Great Britain had made proposals for preliminary conference in the United States or Canada at which the British premiers would be present it was officially indicated that the United States has received such proposals from some source and has rejected them on grounds that it would give offense to Japan and other invited nations.

SAYS RENTS TOO HIGH IN COUNTRY

Cleveland, July 29.—Rents are far too high and should come down as one of the urgent factors needed to get business on a stable foundation, D. C. Willis, chairman of the Cleveland federal reserve bank, declared in a lengthy statement issued on business conditions today.

"Rent, one of the main items in living costs, is out of step and has been along the entire line of march," he said. "In the majority of cases it has failed even to start downward. From some parts of the country come reports that rents are still climbing. It is unreasonable to expect labor to work for lower wages when such a large part of the pay envelope is required for shelter alone."

Nervousness Is a Thing of the Past

Michigan Lady Tells How Nervous Quickly Relieved This Trouble and Enabled Her to Enjoy Restful Sleep.

"I was in a nervous run-down condition," said Mrs. Alice Holmes, 716 Beers St., Port Huron, Mich., and she continues, "I would turn and toss about that bed all night. After taking Nerv-Worth for four weeks, my nervousness is all gone, and my sleep is restful. I am pleased to testify to the merits of Nerv-Worth."

Thousands of lives are made miserable by nervous afflictions and the inability to enjoy restful sleep. That Nerv-Worth will overcome these conditions is proved by the thousands of letters written by grateful Nerv-Worth users. Give it a trial, remembering that if you are not pleased after taking your first bottle, your druggist is authorized to refund your money. Sold by all leading druggists everywhere.

Sold at $1.00 per bottle and recommended by Sayre & Hemphill.

SOUTH CHARLESTON TO VOTE ON ISSUE OF GOVERNMENT

South Charleston, July 28.—Among the issues which may develop at the South Charleston election in November is whether the village will retain the city manager form of government. South Charleston is probably the smallest community in the United States now governed under the commission-manager plan.

Although no definite movement toward a referendum has been instituted influential residents with a distaste for being quoted declare that there is an undercurrent of opposition which will break forth if it finds itself enough supported before election.

Of three members on the village commission, two whose terms expire, have already signified that they are not candidates for re-election. The retiring members are W. D. Sprague and C. S. Kissell, C. F. Gilbert is the holdover member.

The principal argument which could be unearched among those in favor of the old regime being that of economy, the contention being that the village is not large enough to pay a full time manager.

DEPOSITORS WILL BE PAID IN FULL BY COURT RULING

Depositors of the Houston bank, of South Charleston, will be paid in full, as a result of the decision made in common pleas court, late Thursday by Judge F. W. Geiger, of Springfield, after it was found that the Houston trust estates are estimated to be of more than sufficient value to liquidate the bank's obligations.

Since the filing of the suit, by the trustees for the purpose of obtaining instructions from the court, as to their rights in disposing of the holdings of the estates, it is not considered probable that any protest will be made by them with regard to the decision, since the suit was not an adverse proceeding but was brought solely for the purpose of obtaining instruction from the courts.

Various entanglements in which the Houston interests have been involved will be cleared as a result of the decision. The estate's share of the proceeds of a million dollar land sale completed last March in which the Houston Farm company and the estates made a joint sale of more than 4,000 acres of land in Madison County, being placed at the call of A. T. Scott, state banking examiner, will be one of the most important results of the decision. These funds amount to about $100,000 in cash and $200,000 in purchase money mortgage notes.

The desire for a rapid settlement is the cause of Judge Geiger settling what is considered a record in giving a decision in a case of such importance. The first brief was filed July 8, and the last was filed July 16.

SEN. NORRIS COLLAPSES

Washington, July 29.—Senator Norris suffered a partial collapse in the senate yesterday at the close of an address of nearly three hours. The effort combined with intense heat, exhausted him and he was taken to an adjoining committee room where first aid remedies were applied by Senator Ball, a physician, who said Mr. Norris' condition was not believed to be serious.

WARNS SWIMMERS TO BE CAREFUL OF WATER PARASITE

Frank Chambliss, local chemist and biologist, whose interest in all forms of animal and plant life, has made him a student of analysis vivisection and even pachydermy, has discovered the presence of Cyclops, a water-flea that is injurious to health, in the water of Shawnee creek.

In the following article he explains the Cyclops and issued a warning to bathers in stagnant water against the danger of swallowing some of these parasites with the possibility of contracting disease.

"Those who use the lower portions of the creek for bathing should avoid swallowing any portion of the water because at this time of the year the well known fresh-water flea, Cyclops takes up his or her abode. From a microscopic examination of the water I find that there are thousands of these parasites in the water at the present time. Alone the Cyclops are not so dangerous but they act as the intermediate host for the guinea-worm the pinworm, the whip worm and numerous others."

"The Cyclops is a very peculiar animal parasite because it has a single compound eye in the middle of the head. The antennae which are four in number the front two being the larger are used for locomotion only. Under the microscope the female may be recognized by the two brood sacs containing eggs which she carries about her."

YOUR PICNIC PLANNING

The person who doesn't feel like going on at least one picnic in the summertime, had better go and see a doctor! For there must be something the matter with him. Summertime is playtime. And we grown-ups need to relax our nerves now and then with a little harmless pleasure and recreation, just as a child in school must have a recess period to offset the strain of study.

There are certain foods which generations past have decreed should be taken to a picnic, and which generations to come will also endorse as appropriate out-of-door fare. These are sandwiches, salads, eggs stuffed and unstuffed, cake or pie, some kind of beverage and fruits. Granted that we must keep within these time-honored bounds, the next question is, "What kind shall we choose?"

In making this choice, the substantiality of the article should be kept well in mind; for picnickers are hungry folk, and they want nourishment as well as daintiness.

It is customary to have two kinds of sandwich—sweet and unsweetened. Jam or marmalade make a good sweet filling; and peanut butter, cream cheese, or meat make a good unsweetened sandwich. And don't spare the butter in making these sandwiches! Butter, like all fats, contains carbohydrates in their most concentrated form and is, therefore, very nutritious providing a reserve supply of energy for the body which is stored away in the tissue.

Of salads, fish is a good choice. A tuna fish salad, or a salmon salad, keeps well if it is to be carried a long distance, and is hearty enough to satisfy the most ravenous picnicker. To make this, simply open one large can of the fish for every six persons to be served, and pour over it the following:

Fish Salad Dressing: Put into a saucepan a piece of butter the size of an egg, and when it is melted add 1 tablespoon of flour and stir till smooth; then add 1 small cup of milk and let boil up, after which add the yolks of 3 eggs (or two whole eggs—it doesn't matter which) which have been well beaten with 1 small teaspoon of dry mustard, 1 tablespoon of sugar, 1 teaspoon of salt, and 1-2 cup of vinegar. Let this mixture boil until thick, stirring constantly to prevent its catching or becoming lumpy. Let it cool before pouring it over the fish. This is fine for any kind of fish.

If you are lucky enough to go on your picnic in an auto, then you can carry your salad in the bowl in which you make it. But if you must walk, it is better to take it in smaller portions, put up in the fibre-paper containers which soda fountains use for icecream that is to be carried; in this way, the food-bundles can be divided and carried by different persons. Keep your salad on ice till the last minute before leaving home, and have a layer of oiled paper under the lid of the container or over the top of the bowl.

To stuff eggs (although with a heavy salad and nourishing sandwiches, eggs are not really necessary) buy a small can of deviled ham and mix this with the yolks of hard-boiled eggs, wetting it to a paste with a little milk, and seasoning to taste with salt and pepper; restuff the egg-whites, put two halves together, and wrap each stuffed egg with oiled paper.

Berry pies taste better on picnics than any other kind—and picnickers don't care if their teeth do get blackened; What is a tragedy in the formal dining room, is a joke on a picnic. A "three story" chocolate layer cake is sure to prove popular with the masculine picnickers, and a good beverage to take along is grapejuice and lemonade.

FALLS TO DEATH

Toledo, O., July 27.—Ed. J. Decius, aged 35, fell through a skylight on the tenth floor of the Spitzer building here today, and died shortly after reaching St. Vincent's hospital. It is not known whether Decius committed suicide, but it is believed his death was accidental as he was in good health and spirits when he left home an hour earlier.

The Revolt of Vera Sanderson

By JANE PHELPS.

VERA SUGGESTS THAT ERMA INVITE MARGARET CHAPTER 105

I had a lovely day with Erma and Jim. He took me home and I had changed into a negligee and was reading when Keith came in. I had not expected him for another hour, so showed surprise.

"When did you get home?" he asked.

"About an hour ago."

"Did you have a good time?" "Perfectly delightful! Did you?" Erma said to tell you that her invitation included you whenever you felt like coming. Of course I told her it would be impossible because you had promised Margaret your Sundays.

"Um—"

"That was all, but somehow I felt like smiling."

That week he gave Margaret only the one evening he had promised exclusively to her. I had a little dinner party one night; I asked him to take me to a play on another; a card party on Saturday night kept him pretty busy.

"We are getting quite gay, aren't we?" he said when our guests had gone.

"Indeed we are! And we shall be more so when Sallie comes. I had a letter today and she will be here in a few days. She won't stay long as mother isn't well. I want her to have just the best time possible while she is with me. Erma has already asked her for Sunday, and will give a dinner that night for her. She told me to tell you she would be delighted if you would come. I said you would if she invited Margaret. Did I do wrong?"

"No it was very generous of you. But would it not be embarrassing if Margaret still refuses to speak to you?"

"I'll keep away from her."

I saw he wanted the invitation. The idea had come over me just at the moment. Perhaps it would help to make Margaret less bitter, more generous in her feeling toward me.

I spoke of it to Erma. "I won't do it! It would spoil all your enjoyment."

I explained how anxious I was that Margaret should feel differently toward me.

"Not for my sake, but it would make Keith so much happier."

"Oh, well, I'll ask her! But if there is any unpleasantness, remember, you will be to blame, not me."

Sallie came and I was so happy to have her see my own nice home. She fairly raved over it, and her astonishment at my housekeeping and over the nice dishes I cooked for her delectation was amusing. "Somehow I never thought of you as being a bit domestic," she said. "I never had a chance to be until now."

"Well, I guess Keith will have one less cause of complaint." No man but would be pleased with a home kept as you keep this.

"That is all owing to Mrs. Aldrich. You must know her, Sallie. I don't believe such a woman ever lived. She taught me so much I needed to know—about everything."

Jack Underwood and Sallie were engaged.

Everyone seemed to be surprised because of the short time Sallie had been with me. I was not, because Sallie had told me she and Jack had corresponded ever since she visited me when I was first married.

Keith was delighted.

"They will make a fine couple," he said, "and having Sallie here will be great company for you."

It added to our pleasure when Jack took the refusal of an apartment in the same house with us. It would be vacated in the fall.

Then Erma gave her dinner for Sallie. She had invited Margaret, and her invitation had been accepted.

As I had said I would, I avoided Margaret. She never looked toward me. But no one appeared to notice. Jim took Sallie in, of course, and Jack Underwood sat on Erma's Sayre & Hemphill and druggists right. I sat between Jack and a everywhere.

Mr. Latimer, while both Keith and Sallie were out, was alone in the house.

It was an awfully jolly party. Keith took Margaret home, while Jack Underwood took care of Sallie and me.

Margaret had a stunning new dinner gown and looked charming. When Keith came in I told him so.

"So did you, dear. I was very proud of you." Erma is a delightful hostess, and I think Margaret was pleased to be invited.

"That was all. Not a word as to whether my little scheme for gaining Margaret's approval had worked. I did so want to know if she had said a kind word about me."

OLD PEOPLE

Care-worn, nerve exhausted women need Bitro-Phosphate, a pure organic phosphate dispensed by Sayre & Hemphill that New York and Paris physicians prescribe to increase weight and strength and to revive youthful looks and feelings.

AT DEATH'S DOOR

"Ten years of stomach trouble reduced me to a living skeleton. I had attacks of pain that doubled me up like a jackknife and I was as yellow as a gold piece. No medicine or doctors helped me and I was really at death's door. A lodge brother advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I found it to be the only medicine to touch my case."

It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

As I had said I would, I avoided Margaret. She never looked toward me. But no one appeared to notice. Jim took Sallie in, of course, and Jack Underwood sat on Erma's Sayre & Hemphill and druggists right. I sat between Jack and a everywhere.
